Battles In Air And Attacks On Airdromes Costly To Axis Defenders

MANY PLANES ARE BOMBED ON GROUND

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Corresponden)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 20.—The first forceful attempt by enemy airmen to interfere with Allied raids in the Mediterranean has ended disastrously with an estimated 70 or more Axis planes destroyed or damaged in 24 hours, Allied spokesmen said today.

The German and Italian fliers suffered this newest blow from American fighters and bombers during attacks yesterday in which Flying Fortresses played a leading role. Both Sardinia and Sicily were blasted, with the destruction of 44 grounded planes heading the list of paralyzing punches.

Officially this may be straw hat season, but the weatherman hasn't co-operated very successfully to give the season a good start. Few straw hats are as yet being worn.

Effective at noon today, according to announcement of the OPA at Washington, the ban on "pleasure driving" is again effective in the eastern zone, including this Western Pennsylvania district. Scarcity of gasoline is assigned as a cause for invoking the ban again.

Elsewhere in this issue is a suggestion of City Forester Owen Fox as to methods of saving victory gardens from rabbits which are numerous in this locality. Have you any idea on this subject? Write them out and send them in.

There is no advantage in holding back from buying canned foods until near the end of the month, says the OPA. Price officials in Washington assure us there will be no mid-month changes in the official table. Blue stamps G, H and J are valid through May 31, and will buy no more and no less late in the month than today. Only "developments of a totally unexpected nature" could necessitate a mid-month change in point values.

Owen Fox, city forester, witnessed an interesting bird incident at Gaston Park, Wednesday noon. A pair of wrens were busy nest building in one of the park wren houses. The female had brought about six feet of wrapping twine and was hard at work pulling the twine into box; the male bird seemed to resent the using of this twine in the nest building, and proceeded to eliminate it; the female again restored it to the box, but the male still insisted in outlawing the twine. After seesawing for about half an hour at this controversy, little Jenny Wren gave up the tug of war. It was then Mr. Wren, perched atop the box sang lustily his song of victory. Mr. Fox states that Mr. Wren was right in the argument, as the use of twine in the nest might become entangled in the young birds feet. He has rarely found twine in wrens' nests, as slender twigs comprise most of the material used.

Recapture Of Attu Nearly Completed

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Secretary of War Stimson today revealed that American invasion forces on Attu have captured a completed enemy plane landing runway and large quantities of equipment and now are engaged in "sharp fighting" in what appeared to be the final stage of the battle.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The Navy reported today that American troops have captured vital Sarana Pass, leading to the last stand Japanese positions on Attu Island.

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 20 — The course of the Pacific war pivoted today on tiny Attu Island in the western Aleutians, on which hard-hitting American invasion forces threatened momentarily to sweep the Japs into the sea.

Barring interference by Japan's fleet units America's latest offensive appeared to be headed for a clean-up ahead of schedule with the result that new blows could be aimed at the enemy in other parts of the Pacific.

Gloomy Tokyo Reports

Through gloomy radio reports Tokyo apparently has been preparing its listeners for the fall of Attu, indicating that the enemy high command has decided to "write off" its garrisons there and on Kiska as it did on Guadalcanal.

According to conservative Navy men Japan must be watched for a surprise move either in the north

May Attempt To Knock Italy And Germany Out Of War By Air Attacks

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 20—An attempt to knock Italy and possibly Germany out of the war during the next few months by the greatest aerial offensive the world has ever witnessed was foreseen today.

In the wake of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's statement to Congress that the experiment of trying to bring about the collapse of Germany and Italy by air assault is "well worth trying," the Netherlands exile government warned that Germany will be made a "hell" of fire bombs and high explosives during coming days.

Should the aerial campaign succeed in crushing the Italian and German war efforts, it is believed it would mean the saving of lives of hundreds of thousands of American

Word was received Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Campbell, of 316 Harbor street, that their son, PFC Jack O. Campbell, was listed as missing in action in the North African campaign in Tunisia.

Longer Furloughs For New Recruits

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 20—Apparently foreshadowing the impending draft of fathers, all induction centers in the state today planned to give new recruits two week furloughs in compliance with a war department order.

The extended furloughs already are in effect at the Philadelphia station and will be instituted by the end of next month in the remaining centers at Wilkes-Barre, Allentown, Harrisburg, Altoona, Erie, Greensburg and Pittsburgh. Army officials of the third service command said that although the effective dates for the 14-day leaves have been set for the remaining centers, they will not be disclosed in advance.

MAY EXTEND DRIVING BAN

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Petroleum Administrator Ickes today indicated that the ban on pleasure driving may be extended to the middle west.

Declaring that further restrictions on the use of gasoline may be necessary before the present crisis is overcome, Ickes said, "this may require extension of gasoline restrictions of one type or another to the mid-west."

Sicily-Sardinia Again Blasted

Heavy New Assaults By Allied Bombers Are Reported Today

TWENTY-EIGHT AXIS PLANES SHOT DOWN

(International News Service)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 20.—The Italian Mediterranean islands of Sicily and Sardinia quaked today under the weight of heavy new assaults by American Flying Fortresses and other allied bombers which smashed 28 Axis planes out of the air in bitter dogfights.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced that powerful allied bombing forces, maintaining their relentless assaults to paralyze the enemy's Mediterranean bases, yesterday cut up the Milo airfield in Sicily and four airdromes on Sardinia.

The Milo airfield was attacked by Flying Forts of the strategic air force, and the target area was well covered by bomb bursts. Numerous fires were started.

Axis Fighters Encountered

Strong formations of Axis fighter planes were encountered over the Milo airdrome and in ensuing dogfights the big bombers and their escort of 9-38 Lightning fighters knocked 10 of the enemy craft out of the sky.

The airfields in Sardinia were blasted by medium bombers accompanied by fighter escorts.

Numerous hits were scored on airdrome buildings and among large numbers of aircraft on the ground.

"During these attacks formations of enemy fighters were again encountered and 18 of them were destroyed," the communique said.

One Axis torpedo bomber was destroyed by a Beaufighter of the coastal air force.

Four allied aircraft are missing from all these operations.

PLANS FOR MOVE AGAINST JAPAN HOLD SPOTLIGHT

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Plans for intensive action against Japan today held the spotlight in Allied strategy talks as President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Cnurchill met with members of the Pacific war council.

The President and Churchill were believed to e giving the representatives of the Pacific Allies a report on grand strategy that is being mapped out in the momentous series of White House conferences now underway.

Some hint is expected to be given the Pacific war council of the extent to which the President and Churchill believe th beat-Hitler-first strategy can be modified to permit an intensification of the war against Japan.

The Pacific Allies, especially China and Australia, are known to be demanding that greater attention be paid to the far eastern theater of war

Battle Action On Red Fronts Is Increasing

Fighting For Black Sea Naval Base Of Novorossisk Stiffens

SEVERAL SECTORS SEE HARD FIGHTING

By NATALIA RENE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, May 20—Fighting for the Nazi-held Black Sea naval base of Novorossisk stiffened today as the tempo of battle increased on several other fronts in Russia.

Bloody fighting was reported not only in the west Caucasus, site of Novorossisk, but also on the Donets river front, south of Kharkov, and on the Leningrad sector far to the northwest.

Red Army Attacks

(Broadcasts of a dispatch by the official German news agency, DNB, said that the Red army had unleashed attacks at four points. These were said to include, in addition to the drive on Novorossisk, assaults in the Belgorod region of the Donets basin, around Staraya Russa and in the Leningrad area.)

While units of the Red army battered down Nazi defense works northeast of Novorossisk Soviet air forces ranged behind the German lines to bomb enemy troop concentrations and installations. Several fires and explosions followed the Russian air assaults. Three Nazi planes were shot down.

Soviet artillery destroyed two German observation posts and five blockhouses during the night, the noon communique of the Soviet high command said.

On Kuban River

At one point a battalion of German infantry attacked Russian positions, but the Red army immediately counter-attacked and killed 150 Nazis and destroyed three tanks.

A severe engagement was fought on the lower reaches of the Kuban river when the Nazis penetrated between Soviet detachments. The Red army then attacked and wiped out practically an entire company.

Fighting was reported by the Soviet high command in both the Izyum and Lisischansk areas of the Donets region.

Russian artillery shelled a concentration of tanks in the Sevsk area, west of Kursk, and several fierce explosions were observed.

Artillery also was extremely active on the Leningrad front, where eight blockhouses and dugouts were destroyed. Snipers were credited with killing 147 Nazis.

In increased air activity over the northwest battlefront Soviet anti-

New Move Made By Lewis Would Take Mine Workers Back To A. F. Of L.

STEP IN BATTLE FOR MINERS' RAISE

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

By JACK VINCENT

WASHINGTON, May 20—John L. Lewis' move to lead his 540,000 United Mine Workers back into the American federation of labor today was viewed as a master stroke in his fight with the government to get the miners a $2-a-day wage increase from the nation's coal operators.

Lewis, by the move, proved he was not seeking personal aggrandizement and a position to start a third labor movement but was fighting to obtain a higher wage for his miners to meet the rising cost of living.

The step also would pave the way for the UMW to continue as a powerful labor union in case the miners' boss would want to retire.

Acceptance Uncertain

While the AFL's executive council "welcomed" receipt of Lewis' application for reaffiliation with the organization, acceptance of it was far from an accomplished fact. AFL President William Green said he would appoint a committee to consider the application and meet with UMW officials but there was some doubt that the council could even get around to a final vote until some time this summer.

There also remains the question of settling jurisdictional disputes between AFL unions and UMW district 50, the "catch-all" union which had been reported to be Lewis' move to establish a new national labor organization.

Eight States Battle Floods

Lowlands Of Midwest Are Swept By Flood Waters—Much Damage

INDIANA HARDEST HIT BY HIGH WATER

(International News Service)

Swirling flood waters from swollen rivers and streams rolled over millions of acres of lowland areas in eight midwest states today, ruining war crops, endangering power and war plants and driving thousands of families from their homes.

At least eight persons were dead in the flood-stricken areas, five in Indiana and three in Missouri.

Another death was reported in eastern Oklahoma where authorities expressed the belief several persons were missing.

In Indiana, the hardest hit of the eight states, an estimated 20,000 persons were made homeless in 20 counties. Federal troops were ordered into the high water areas, and Taylorsville and West Terre Haute were placed under martial law by Gov. Henry F. Schricker. Flood waters surged through a third of the state

Other States Affected

Other states affected were Illinois, Arkansas, Ohio, Oklahoma, Kansas and Michigan.

Fear of epidemics spread through the flood stricken areas as health authorities took added precautions warning all persons in the affected sections to boil their drinking water

Allies' Bombs Hit Jap-Held Airbase On Timor Island

Extensive Damage Done At Penfoei Airdrome, Kupang, Reports MacArthur Headquarters

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, May 20—A smashing dawn attack by Allied bombers and long-range fighting planes on the Japanese-held Penfoei airdrome at Kupang, on the island of Timor, was announced today by Gen. MacArthur's headquarters.

First the Allied fighters streaked in over the airdrome at tree-top height. They heavily strafed buildings and personnel and destroyed or damaged three bombers and a fighter plane caught on the ground.

Before the Japs had time to recover from this assault, Allied heavy bombers appeared and hurled down bombs which started fires in the building areas.

The Japs sent up eight fighter planes to intercept the raiders. Three of the Nip fighters were shot down in combat and two others probably were destroyed. Three Allied fighters failed to return to their base.

Allied planes also attacked two Jap bases on New Britain. Heavy bombers blasted the airport and harbor at Gasmata and reconnaissance units bombed supply dumps and dispersal areas at Cape Gloucester.

Nipponese airmen retaliated with ineffective raids on two Allied bases in New Guinea.

Nine enemy bombers over Oro Bay dropped 20 bombs harmlessly in the bush and in the water, causing no damage and no casualties. One of the bombers was shot down by Allied anti-aircraft fire.

A small force of enemy planes ineffectively bombed Douglas harbor, at Cape Ward Hunt.

School Budget Is Not Adopted

School Board Members Make No Decision At Meeting On Wednesday Night

NEXT MEETING ON SATURDAY NIGHT

After three hours discussion Wednesday night, the New Castle school board adjourned without having adopted a budget or set the tax levy for the coming school year. Another special meeting will be held Saturday night at eight o'clock in an attempt to get a budget adopted. The budget must be adopted before the end of the month or the matter goes to the Lawrence County court.

The budget was gone over piece at a time and out of the discussion came a few definite facts. One was the chopping off the proposed $50 equalization salary increase for teachers in the upper brackets in order to make their bonus $200 instead of $150. The $10 per month increase until September 1 was left in for the teachesr and the janitors given a $10 per month increase.

Cable, who has been stationed here as terminal trainmaster for the past seven years, and who is leaving the service on an extended sick leave, when they gathered in The Castleton for a testimonial dinner Wednesday evening.

Mr. Cable, whose leave became effective this week, has been succeeded by Charles H. Richards, local man, who has risen from the ranks in the New Castle Terminal. He had been terminal trainmaster at Akron Junction, prior to returning to New Castle, from whence he went out only a few years ago to begin his rise up the ladder of officialdom with the B. & O. Hour By Hour Bombing Will Be Nazis Fate

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 20.—The allies will bomb Germany hour by hour until the war is won, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden promised today.

His statement was made in an address to the anual conference of conservatives in London. His words appeared particularly significant in view of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's speech in Washington yesterday that the experiment of bombing the Axis out of the war is worth trying.

"We know what is best for Germany—bombing by day and night, ceaselessly and continuously, hour by hour until the war is won," Eden told his audience.

"That is the program we have prepared for Germany.

"Germany is being bombed not only around the clock but around the map."

The foreign secretary added that Mussolini most certainly would not be forgotten by the allied bomber commands.

He paid tribute to United States forces engaged in crushing the Japanese on the island of Attu.

"In the far north Pacific, even as I speak," he said, "American forces have made progress in operations which will, we trust, drive the Japanese from the Aleutian Islands."

FEAR DEADLOCK ON TAX MEASURE

Senate-House Conference On Pay-As-You-Go Tax Plan Is Begun

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 20—A joint senate-house conference on pay-as-you-go taxation opened today with some members frankly discussing the possibility of a deadlock which would result in scrapping both senate and house tax bills.

Fourteen conferees met in the senate finance committee room in a secret session with Sen. Walter F. George (D) Ga., chairman of the senate committee.

While some senate conferees indicated they would make a fight for the Ruml plan of pay-as-you-go taxation members generally admitted that the plan was killed by three adverse house votes.

"I should think that the Ruml plan is dead," said Harry F. Byrd (D), Va., a member of the conference.

Sen. David I. Walsh (D) Mass., and Bennett Clark (D) Mo., both said they still favor the Ruml plan.

"It looks, however, as if it had been scrapped," said Senator Walsh. "I do not know whether we can work out a bill. There is a possibility of a deadlock."

Berlin Targets Again Bombed By RAF Fliers

Eighth Successive Night Of Bombing Of Germany Recorded By British

U. S. AIR FORTRESSES IN ATTACK ON KIEL

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 20.—Mosquito planes of the British bomber command last night blasted targets in Berlin while whirlwinds and typhoons struck at airfield, railways and canals in northern France and Belgium, the air ministry announced today.

The operations marked the eighth successive night in which the Royal Air Force has struck at Germany and the occupied continent in the growing Allied aerial offensives. Last night's raids were considered remarkable in that not a single plane was lost.

The non-stop cycle of assaults continued in daylight with formations of Allied planes crossing the Dover Straits at mid-day and heading toward the coast of France between Boulogne and Dunkirk.

The night raid on Berlin was the 65th of the war against the German capital nad was believed to have been made by only a small force of Mosquitos

Driving Ban Again Ordered

Brown Invokes Old Ban On "Pleasure Driving" In This District

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—O.P.A. today returned to the preachments of its ex-boss Leon Henderson, invoking the pleasure driving ban for the second time in six months in 13 eastern states and the District of Columbia.

The severely critical gas shortage in the eastern area prompted O.P.A. Chief Prentiss M. Brown to revert to the methods of his tough-minded, outspoken predecessor and clamp down on use of autos for amusement, recreation, entertainment or any other form of non-essential driving, effective at noon today.

The pleasure driving ban applies to the District of Columbia, eight eastern counties of West Virginia and Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia.

Surprise Move

Brown, in his surprise move, did not specify how long the new restriction would stay in effect, but it probably will last until the gasoline situation improves and there was no indication when that would be.

Although drivers will be closely watched, Brown said that there would be no further cut in coupon values.

"Essential" Driving

As in the original ban on east coast pleasure driving, the types of driving classed as essential include:

Essential shopping, obtaining medical attention, attending religious services, funerals, meetings of groups or organizations essential to the occupation or profession of the persons using the vehicle; meeting an emergency involving a threat to life, health or property, or for instruction or training in meeting or preparing to meet such emergency.

Non-essential trips specifically prohibited include (but are not limited to): Driving to places of amusement, recreation or entertainment, such as theaters, amusement parks, concerts, dances, golf courses, skating rinks, bowling alleys; social club meetings, sightseeing tours or vacation travel, or making social calls.

Sole exceptions are members of the armed forces on leave or furlough.

AXIS AIR FORCES SUFFER HEAVILY IN SICILY AREA

of complete totals of individual engagements, yesterday's box scores stood as follows: 44 grounded planes destroyed; 10 shot down by forts and their Lightning escorts; three damaged by Lightnings; seven destroyed by P-40's and B-26 Marauders; six others by another Lightning formation, and "several" others by Warhawk formations en route home from their original battles.

Flying Fortresses, operating behind a screen of Lightning fighters, heavily bombed the Milo airport at Trapani. After destroying 44 enemy planes, they and their Lightnings met an enemy challenge to aerial combat and, in dogfights which raged from sea level to altitudes of 24,000 feet, shot 10 planes out of the air. Lightnings damaged three others.

Four U. S. Planes Lost

Only four American planes were lost in the day's operations.

A terrific aerial slugfest developed in the Mediterranean skies when 50 Axis fighters tackled the Flying Fortresses between the Sicilian coast and the Egadi Islands immediately after the Milo airdrome in central Sicily had been raided. Tons of bombs were dropped on that field and photographs showed 37 enemy planes destroyed on the ground.

The big bombers swung eagerly into the sky battle and shot down 10 enemy planes while their escorting Lightnings damaged three others in 20 minutes.

Hot lead also streaked across the skies above Sardinia when more than 30 Axis fighters attacked American B-26 Marauder bombers and P-40 Warhawks engaged in bombing the Monserrato and Elmas airfields and the Cagliari harbor. Six planes were shot down by the P-40's and the bombers bagged a seventh.

Returning Flying Fortress crew members said "that was the hottest dogfight we've yet experienced. Axis planes came at us from all directions."

Reveal 267,000 Axis Prisoners Captured In Tunisian Campaign

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Secretary of War Stimson disclosed today that 267,000 Axis prisoners were taken by the Allied forces in the Tunisian campaign.

"It is now confirmed that our previous estimates on Axis prisoners captured in North Africa have been substantially exceeded," Stimson said.

He disclosed that in the final attack on Tunis and Bizerte approximately 224,000 Axis troops were captured. Of this number, 125,000 were German.

BERLIN TARGETS AGAIN BOMBED BY R. A. F. FLIERS

and bombed the Reich capital on Hitler's birthday April 20—were not disclosed.

The Berlin radio sought to minimize the assaults by asserting that a "single British plane penetrated north Germany and bombed at random."

At the same time the Germans admitted, however, that Flying Fortresses of the United States Eighth Air Force yesterday caused "considerable damage to buildings" in raids on the Kiel and Flensburg naval bases. Damage was especially severe at Flensburg, the Nazis conceded.

Authorized Berlin circles, according to a dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet reported by Reuter's, denounced the American attack on Kiel, submarine building center, as a "criminal and unscrupulous" action. The enemy asserted that the planes dropped explosive pencils, pens, torches and dolls.

Berlin was quoted as threatening that these "pilots' acts will not go unpunished".

Arrests In Ruhr

The Evening Standard carried a dispatch from Stockholm stating that a large number of arrests were made today in the Ruhr and other parts of Germany as a result of a swift tightening up on all German Jews and foreigners suspected of supporting an anti-Nazi whispering campaign following devastating floods loosed by the blasting of the Moehne and Eder dams.

A number of street demonstrations in the Ruhr and Rhineland were reported. In the whole area bounded by Kassel, Paderborn, Dortmund and Marburg there are scenes of utmost confusion, it was said. In many places roads are jammed with armies of refugees from flooded areas.

London had two alerts last night and although no enemy craft penetrated the defenses of the capital the German radio claimed that the Nazi air force "again bombed individual military targets in London and on the channel coast." It was said that one German plane was "overdue".

While London was fending off reprisal assaults Britain's own bombers were over Berlin and the western continent to smash Nazi communication lines and airfields.

EIGHT STATES BATTLE FLOODS

Mass immunization against typhoid fever was recommended in Illinois.

The Red Cross and other relief agencies were taxed to the limit to care for the thousands of refugees. Civilian defense and state militias were mobilized in many states, and army and naval personnel aided volunteers in rescuing marooned families.

Hardest hit areas in Indiana were along the Wabash, White and Mississinewa rivers and their tributaries. At West Terra Haute, where many streets were under five feet of water, more than 2,000 families were evacuated.

money and thus increase carrying charges, or to re-finance any bond issues. The members who advocated no increase argued that maintenance work planned for this year could be left go again.

President Griff Thomas opened the special meeting by saying that he believed it was time to get together and adopt a budget for the schoov system. The new budgets which had been prepared upon a basis of 19 mills was passed around to the members. Director Daniel B. Woolcock opened the discussion by attacking the propoced equalizing increase of $50 per year to teachers in the $2000-$2999 bracket.

Explain Increase

It was explained by President Thomas that the $50 had been suggested in order to bring the bonus of the higher bracket teachers up to $200 instead of the $150 the state has provided. He also explained that the teachers had been getting $10 per month increase for some time, following board action. Commenting upon the proposal to increase the bonus to 116 of the teachers by $50 Mr. Woolcock said,

"The teachers had a pretty good lobby in Harrisburg. The bill was passed and I think we should stay with the provisions of it."

Thomas. "Under the terms of the bill the older teachers, who have been in service for twenty years or more are the ones who get the least increase."

W. D. Cleland. "They are working both ways, both at Harrisburg and here.

Hyde. "Does anybody know what they asked for in Harrisburg?"

Brindle. "A straight $300.00 increase."

Superintendent Frank L. Burton was asked what he thought of the idea of equalizing the increases for teachers and replied that he thought it would be a fine thing for morale if the board would grant it.

W. D. Cleland. "It doesn't take long to forget. We took pretty good care of the teachers during the depression. They never missed a pay."

Brindle. "Many of the older teachers are heads of families. With Victory tax, and other taxes, the going is tough for them."

Hits Everybody

Hyde. "The Victory tax hits everybody. If the taxpayers have to pay the teachers' Victory tax it will make it tougher upon the taxpayers.

Preston brought the discussion to a close by offering a motion to continue until September, the $10 per month increase granted some months ago and also to authorize a $50 increase over the state bonus for teachers in the higher brackets. After a little discussion he divided the subject matter into two motions. His motion to discontinue the $10 increase after September 1 was carried. His second motion was to grant the $2000-$2999 bracket teachers a $50 increase (116 teachers in all) and the $3000-$3499 bracket (only two teachers), a $100 increase. The total cost of these increases would have been $6000. The vote followed. Yes—Brindle, Preston, Shira and Thomas. No—Cleland, Hyde and Woolcock.

Ira K. Alford, appointed Wednesday morning to fill the place vacated by Major Arthur B. Foster did not vote upon this or any other motion. He stated he had not had time to digest the budget and felt he could not vote intelligently until he had had time to go over it.

Maintenance Attacked

After refusing the $50 increase to teachers the board moved on to the consideration of the maintenance items.

Hyde questioned the necessity of replacing the open trench toilet facilities at Thaddeus Stevens school at a cost of $6000, and of improving some of the school playgrounds. No action was taken to affirm or reject the budget committee's recommendations on maintenance.

Mr. Hyde moved to set the tax levy at eighteen mills whereupon President Thomas said the board would have to borrow $43,000 if that was done.

"Well, cut out the $6000 from Thaddeus Stevens and cut out a number of other items" said Mr. Hyde. "I imagine we won't be able to get all the repair work done any way" said he.

Shira replied "I imagine we could get the work done if it was to be done at Mahoning school, Mr. Hyde."

Hyde. "There was some question of what authority had been granted at the Mahoning school for repairs."

Shira. "You can't find any authority for more than 16 new lights in the Mahoning school".

Hyde. "I though we had finished with that affair."

Mr. Hyde's motion to place the millage at eighteen mills was voted upon and resulted as follows. Yes. Cleland, Hyde and Woolcock. No. Brindle, Preston, Shira and Thomas. Not voting, Alford.

The meeting adjourned to meet again Saturday night at 7:30.

RECAPTURE OF ATTU NEARLY COMPLETED

Pacific or elsewhere to offset the defeat they have suffered since U. S. army troops landed successfully on Attu 10 days ago.

As the situation now stands in the north Pacific, American forces threaten to take Attu momentarily, a victory that would trap enemy troops on the important island of Kiska, 200 miles to the east.

Reconquest of the Aleutians by American forces would ease the threat to the U. S. Pacific coast and would be another severe setback to Japan's dream of conquest.

Japan On Defensive

Despite numerous threats and feints, Japan during the past year has been on the defensive in virtually every Pacific war theater and America's offensive blows have been increasing in tempo and force.

Japan's last invasion thrust was made almost a year ago when they launched a two-pronged blow at the Aleutians and Midway.

The battle of Midway last June ended in a smashing victory for American sea and air power, but in the north Pacific the Japs succeeded in taking undefended Kiska and Attu.

Navy men have warned that Japan may strike again in an effort to upset America's developing 1943 offensive plans, but the longer they wait the less chance there is of success.

Meanwhile, it is no secret that the United States Pacific fleet has been preparing since the battles of Guadalcanal to strike new blows against the Japanese at important bases on the road to Tokyo.

Both Guadalcanal and Attu have proved that American land, sea and air forces are capable of retaking the island Empire stolen by Japan in the months before America began to fight.

REV. AND MRS. JONES AT MILROY CONFERENCE

Rev. and Mrs. Thomas J. Jones are representing the First Congregational church of this city at the Pennsylvania State Conference being held in Milroy, Pa., May 20, 21, 22 and 23.

One of the most interesting issues for discussion is the proposed merger of the Reformed and Evangelical churches with the National Council of Congregational Christian Churches of America. The basis of this union will be discussed and the proposed name of the new union will be The United Church. Congregationalists are relatively weak in Pennsylvania, having a membership of 19,800. The Reformed and Evangelical churches have 232,000 in Pennsylvania and 809,000 in the country. The Congregationalists have 1,021,000 in the country.

MAY ATTEMPT TO KNOCK ITALY AND GERMANY OUT

and other Allied soldiers who otherwise would have to be sacrificed in breaching Hitler's European fortress.

None Too Optimistic

Official and diplomatic Washington, however, is none too optimistic about the prospects of air power alone being able to do the job.

If air power fails to bring the two major European Axis powers to their knees during the coming eight or ten weeks, then it is believed Anglo-American invasions of the European continent will be launched.

The likelihood is seen in diplomatic quarters that these invasion attempts may be of a limited nature at first—with the final knock out blow against Germany probably developing early next spring.

It appears, however, that the Anglo-American high command intends to give the American and British air chiefs an opportunity to prove their contention that the intensified use of air power can bring about a collapse of the war effort in Germany and Italy.

Churchill told Congress there is "no harm in finding out" whether air power alone can do the job "so long as other measures are not excluded."

Invasion Plans Seen

A strong indication that the United States and Great Britain are planning to move in with invasion forces if the aerial offensive does not do the trick was seen in other statements made by Churchill to the joint session of Congress.

He spoke of large numbers of troops receiving special instructions for "other operations which will unfold in due course," and added that these operations have not been in any way delayed by the "obstinate fighting in Northern Tunisia."

He also warned the Axis powers that the Allies will "presently furnish them with further examples" of the ability of parliamentary democracies to wage effective war.

While Washington generally was gratified at Churchill's assurances that Britain will help the United States lay Japan's cities in ashes "as long as there is breath in our bodies," his address was not seen as giving any hint of a shift in the Allied strategy of defeating Germany first.

LEWIS SEEKS TO REJOIN A. F. OF L.

ed, Lewis is expected to waive most of district 50's jurisdictional rights if he can obtain the right to organize the nation's farmers.

The UMW, the union which Lewis already heads, has about $7,000,000 in its treasury and the labor leader was seen as apparently trying to mend his fences for any postwar eventualities.

Lewis' application for reaffiliation with the AFL is expected to start a dispute even among old line Federation members as many of them fear that if he moves back into the organization he would try to take over leadership.

With acceptance of the application believed far off the move at the present time was expected to be another step in Lewis' case to help his fight to obtain a wage increase for his miners.

The Story Of Famous Diamonds
. . . diamonds that have shared in the course of world events.

THE
A Rarity Among Diamonds

The Hope Blue Diamond is a square cut brilliant of 45½ carats, and has a pronounced blue color, a rarity in diamonds. It was acquired by Henry T. Hope, a London banker, in 1830, and was later purchased by Mr. Edward B. McLean, of Washington, D. C., for a reputed price of $300,000. Its reputation as a harbinger of bad luck seems to be grossly exaggerated. Some authorities think that the Hope is part of a blue diamond weighing 112¼ carats which was sold to the French crown in 1668.

KEEPING OUR LIBERTY

THERE are far too many people who take liberty for granted. The United States is the only modern nation conceived in liberty, and with the principles of freedom from the very first nailed to the masthead. During our more than a century and a half existence we have cherished and maintained liberty. It is part of our everyday life. Breathing the air of liberty comes as a matter of course.

No wonder then that too many of us are prone to take our liberty for granted, as something we will always have with us as the air, the water and the sunshine. Yet to see that this is not necessarily true we have only to look at modern Europe. The first world war was fought apparently to make the world safe for democracy, which was only another way of saying we intended to establish liberty everywhere. For a moment new republics arose and Europe did seem to be on the threshold of general freedom. But look at Europe now. The lamp of liberty was extinguished by racial and political jealousies and hatreds. "New" theories were permitted to uproot those of individualism and democracy. We now see the lamentable result.

For a time it seemed that the new totalitarianism in Europe might engulf the world. That danger now is on its way out of the window. We no longer fear an invasion of our shores by the military vandals of totalitarianism. But that does not mean that our liberty is safe. It will indeed remain in danger so long as we take it for granted, so long as we permit ourselves a nonchalant yawn when the dangers within are mentioned.

It has frequently been said in the past, and deserves to be repeated, that if the American government is ever overthrown it will be by enemies within the gates rather than by the alien enemies outside.

It is not to be forgotten that during the past few years when we have been battling economic evils at home and military evils abroad, the "new" doctrines have taken root in the United States. Already there are men among us, some in high places, who tell us that the old individualism, on which our government is founded, is departing never to return, that we will have to adopt in America some sort of socialized government to fit our American needs.

Gradually we see state lines weakening and centralized government growing steadily. Here are the first evidences of revolutionary change. And such revolution need not be waged by cannon. It can come through gradual political infiltration. And this can only happen if we take our liberty for granted and fool ourselves into believing that there can be no danger at home, that our liberty will always remain with us.

SOLDIERS AS AMBASSADORS

Vice President Wallace knows how to butter up those with whom we wish to be friends, including the people of Latin America. His visit to our South American neighbors undoubtedly strengthened the bonds of hemisphere solidarity and removed many misunderstandings.

For our part, however, we'll take Yank soldiers as good will ambassadors. After a girl has taught a soldier how to samba, and has learned from him how to jitterbug and eat hamburgers, and her parents have learned to enjoy full-sized cups of coffee with cream and sugar, there isn't much room left for suspicion and jealousy.

When war finally is outlawed it will not be by treaties and covenants made by statesmen, but by friendship and understanding that will grow out of the personal contacts of ordinary men and women.

Blue tickets for canned goods and vegetables, red tickets for meats—there should be yellow tickets for the black market.

We have been afraid that somebody would provide a recipe of making cake with ground spinach instead of butter and eggs.

It's hard to decide whether references in the news to the "heel of Italy" are geographical or just a quick description of Mussolini.

What Noted People Say

HOT SPRINGS—President Roosevelt in a message to the United Nations food conference: "In this and other United Nations conferences we shall be extending our collaboration from war problems into important new fields. LONDON—Lord Keynes, author of a British post-war monetary program: "The economic structure of the post-war world cannot be built in secrecy."

WASHINGTON—Rep. John Kerr of North Carolina: "The issue before the house is whether we want men on the Federal payroll who don't believe in the American philosophy of government."

IODIZED SALT

We need a small amount of iodine in our food.

In some parts of our country there seems to be a shortage of iodine in the soil. As a result the plants and animals are short on it.

This locality does not seem to have a very large supply of iodine.

It is a problem to get it in the right amount.

People in good health are helped by getting a little extra iodine. People who have goitre may be damaged by too much.

Perhaps one drop of tincture of iodine in a month is enough for any one.

Iodized salt is a convenient way of getting an extra supply. Used in moderation it is probably beneficial.

Perhaps the best way to use it is to have a salt shaker of it on the table part of the time.

We can destroy our enemies if not too much handicapped by the proud and stubborn folly of people who are on our side.

"I'll reform when conditions are right" is like failing in a mud puddle and say "I'll get up when the weather improves".

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MOTHERS WRONG IN BEING TOO LAX

No one doubts the courage of the men in our armed forces. The biggest group of cowards in the United States are mothers, especially those of children from 10 to 15. These mothers know very well that their children should be off the streets after dark and that they should not be allowed to pair off for "dates" at night without being accompanied by adults.

In the hundreds of groups of parents Mrs. Myers and I have met throughou the United States in recent months, mothers will admit that their children should be controlled and protected, as we have been entreating them to do. But in almost any group, and no matter in what state, a mother (occasionally a father) will rise to say, "I agree with you, but my child says no other parent restricts her children so. When my child must come into the house after dark while all his young friends are allowed to stay out, go to bed at a proper time when others can remain up as late as they like to hear a favorite (usually very exciting) program on the air, or have to be accompanied to a movie by an adult or elsewhere at night while practically all others may go alone anywhere with one of the opposite sex (even at 10, 12 or 14), this child is mortified at being the only one so treated. Won't it harm my child's personality if he is not allowed to do whatever his playmates or young friends do?"

Mistaken Parents

It appears, too, that the parents who express such concern about the child are likely to be very well dressed, to be very well educated (many with college degrees) and social prestige. Aiding and abetting these cowardly parents in these "fears" lest they seem to be old-fashioned or too strict, have been many influential speakers and writers classed as "child experts" who for years have been warning parents against making a child ever appear different. No matter about his physical and moral safety, just so he can be one of the flock of sheep! Indeed, many of these cowardly mothers are not thinking of their child's feelings so much as their own. These mothers want to appear modern, liberal and broad-minded.

Many of these mothers have read of the increasing number of girls from 11 to 15 who are taking a wrong turn in the road but are sure it could never happen to their daughters. Yet it is happening more and more to girls of such mothers at an appalling rate. The spread of venereal diseases is not so much by professional prostitutes as by girls, many from "fine homes"—innocent girls who meant no harm at all, at first, but gradually drift into habitual wrongdoing.

Right now, at least 10,000,000 spines are needed to stiffen the jelly backs of American mothers, and by the very mothers who are least willing to receive such precious treasures. Many mothers who could use real spines are on the rolls of the leading woman's clubs, churches and P. T. A.'s. If all such mothers properly controlled and protected their children, the mothers of the less privileged would soon imitate them. Already thousands of mothers are saying, "If only I had had the courage to do by my child as I knew I should!"

Solving Parent Problems

Q. My nine-year-old boy writes with his left hand and holds his hand and arm in a very awkward position as he does so. What would you advise?

A. That he be encouraged to go on using his left hand to write but to try to learn to use his left hand much as the average person uses his right hand, only to slant it and his paper from the left.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

Princess Many Trails, the great white mother, recently hauled off with a statement that the women of the nation should be thinking more about the future of the world than about partisan questions.

We took it up with a Mrs. Kiernan who seems to be related to us in some manner. We said "Honey what thought are you giving to the future of the world?" She said "to tell the truth, I was just thinking the kids will need new pants for graduation."

Then we tried another approach. We said "perhaps you are giving too much thought to partisan questions?" She said "Do you think white pants with their old blue coats will do or should we get new suits for them?"

It was discouraging. We said "don't you ever think about anything but your kids, your husband, your home? Don't you ever think about any of the big heavy things like the future of the world and partisan questions?"

She said "sure I do. What would you suggest I do with my thoughts—advertise them in the papers or send them to the White House?"

Well she had us there.

Very often the only thing for some birds to have for a government job is being a member of a political party.

It was in a history class for junior grade children and the teacher read aloud: "Columbus landed in America on October 12th, 1492, A.D. Now, what does the 'A.D.' stand for?"

And a bright youngster piped up with "After Dark."

Same teacher . . . same class . . . different boy.

The sergeant had been invited to take dinner with a family that lived near the camp. The food was the chief reason why he accepted a second invitation. After the family had eaten, he was sitting on the front porch with the youngest daughter of the house, when he suddenly blurted out: "Martha will you marry me?"

After the young lady consented, they sat a long while in silence, and at last she asked: "Why are you so quiet? Why don't you say something?"

"I think I've said too much already," replied the sergeant.

WORKING MOTHERS

"I am 20 years old and have never yet had a real love affair. I have had dates with numerous men, of course, but never a permanent attachment." Although I am considered very attractive, the boys I like never seem to come back after about our third or fourth date. With boys getting more and more scarce now, I am worried about my future. What do you think is wrong with me?—Mary Jane.

Answer: "A watched kettle never boils" is the old saying, and it is very, very true. It applies very specifically to affairs of the heart. It has been my observation that the girl who is ever on the alert for a man scares worth-while men away. I would say you are probably one of those. Love has a way of sneaking up on us. It is neither planned, nor anticipated. The "real thing" is accidental. You might be sitting on your own front porch minding your own business and fate will take care of the rest.

The girl who makes it too obvious that she is a husband hunt—she who is never content unless surrounded by the opposite sex—usually gets left or at least catches an inferior man. For invariably, impatient for a permanent male companion, she will weed out the best one of her satellites and be content with what she can get. She is unwilling to spend a few idle moments waiting for a real man to come along and sweep her off her feet. And even were he to come along, her anxiety might make him flee her trap. My advise is: Relax your attentions. Take an interest in a boy's "line" but act as if your life depends on his attentions.

Question: I am planning to be a June bride at an afternoon church wedding. What would you suggest for me to wear besides a white dress and how many may I include in the wedding party?—F.

Answer: If you do not wish to dress as a bride, wear an afternoon dress and hat of a pastel shade becoming to your coloring. Light blue is a great favorite. If thus attired, without formal wedding veil and gown, you should have only two attendants—a maid-of-honor (or matron) and a best man.

REFLECTIONS OF A SWING SWIFTER

Just what is back of the rubber controversy? It is well known that certain interests outside the United States held a monopoly of the crude rubber we imported for our automobile industry. They took a handsome profit and we paid.

Can it be that these same interests control all crude rubber we must import are looking forward to the time when hostilities cease and we must again depend on them to supply the rubber we will need in vast quantities?

If so, is it possible that they are moving heaven and earth to prevent us from developing a new synthetic rubber industry that will make us independent of the 'rubber trust'?

One thing is sure . . . either there is some sinister motive behind all this rubber controversy or a large number of our 'key' executives are pitifully short sighted.

If the interests ouside the United States which control the production of crude rubber are trying to sabotage the production of synthetic rubber in the United States, they must work with certain influential men in the government since it is a government project. And, if this is true, they are deliberately slowing up our War Production while our American soldiers and sailors are dying on foreign battle fronts.

Cupidity and avariciousness are two of the most dangerous human traits with which we have to contend.

All we have to do about taxes these days is just to pay them.

We have noticed that when stories of strange wild animals are told it is always in places where liquor is not rationed.

Once an acquaintance was talking to Josh Billings about the remarkable increase of imitations and substitutes for original articles, such as 'oleomargarine' for 'butter', 'celluloid' for 'ivory', etc. 'and,' he continued, 'many of the substitutes go ahead of the real thing. In time, I suppose there'll be a substitute for everything . . . although I don't know about 'wisdom'.'

'No,' replied the humorist, 'up to the present time, at least, there is no really good substitute for wisdom. But silence is the best that has so far been discovered.'

A high Washington official says there are writers who have more ideas that a tomcat has sweethearts on a backyard fence. Meow!

War bonds can be bought at any time. They are a good investment and will help our boys win the war.

Noah was denied the privilege of saying, "I told you so", because there was no one to say it to.

They might as well wear slacks. Better leave ankles to the imagination than expose them in baggy rayon.

The pattern of betrayal doesn't change. Those who delay victory do it for thirty pieces of silver.

We know when to expect bad news. Some big shot pops off with a boast that we'll soon have everything in the bag.

Don't judge uplifters by those who are conspicuous. The consecrated ones chose the tough jobs that are obscure.

To nsure the failure of any work or organization, make it a sacred cow that nobody dares to criticize.

The beginning of understanding is humility. Conceited man thinks Heaven was created to serve him.

An inferior race is one that thinks it necessary to claim equality or boast of superiority.

Another war necessity we never have in sufficient quantity is official silence.

Inside Washington

Secrecy Is Emphasized More Than In First War
Foreign News Setup More Popular Than The OWI
Attitude Of Roosevelt Only Antogonizes Press

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Columnist)

Details of President Roosevelt's and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's latest Washington confabulations naturally will be profoundly confidential for quite a while. Some broadly general broadcasts have been and are still being emitted, but they are too cautious to be very informative. Particulars will have to wait for future history.

The situation is all military secrecy today. It is quite understandable. Advising the enemy in advance of what is coming for them would be obviously poor strategy.

The same rule prevailed during World War I and it may have been as strictly enforced then as now. At that time, however, it was not so conspicuously emphasized as it is today. Officials who had inside facts to leak simply did not leak them. Now, they do leak, the press is warned to keep them hushed up, or publication of them will be treasonable. And the press has been good about keeping the husher on.

I was connected with the 19-teens' foreign publicity service (known as the "Compub", under George Creel) and we disseminated about all we got—good, bad and indifferent. I am not so sure that it was not about as effective as our censorship, which we had in that era likewise.

We were believed, anyway.

If we had a streak of bad luck we admitted it. If the luck turned the other way we took credit for that, too, and all the bystanders swallowed our accounts correspondingly unquestioningly.

They figured that we were telling the truth.

When a jab at the enemy was contemplated, it was not advertised in advance, but folk knew that thrills were impending and were stimulated ahead.

Moreover, I think that, in those days, the Compub was more popular than the OWI is at present. This isn't necessarily a reflection upon Elmer Davis, the current outfit's director.

George Creel, Elmer's publicity predecessor, made his get-away from scratch, before Washington bureaucracy had had time to develop much internal quarreling to a point of national ridiculousity and all-around ill-feeling. So George slid in rather easily. Elmer's troubles were prepared in advance for him by earlier incumbents. He simply inherited them.

Besides, I suspect that President Woodrow Wilson was an easier executive for his publicity agents to get on with than President Franklin D. has proved to be.

The earlier world war's executive's policy was to turn HIS publicity over to his subordinate to manage for him, and they made a professional job of it. F. D. R. considers himself personally a prime publicity-ite, which he is not, professionally, and maybe he has made mistakes that good advice would have steered him clear from. The screech over his exclusion of journalistic representation at wartime and post-war international conferences hints at it. F. D. R. thinks he is a newspaperman, but the press evidently disagrees with him. He has news in his system, but the working correspondents evidently disapprove of him as an editor of it.

The fact is that Prime Minister Churchill manifestly is better liked by the American reportorial corps than the White House tenant is.

There are good reasons for it. Winston is not "smarty".

He has been muzzled by his affiliation, but it plainly handicapped him in his conversations with Yankee scribes in our own capital.

The truth is that a lot of news which might naturally have been looked for from Yankee sources has oozed out, instead, from British spokesmanship. The London press has had it before we did. It has had to be quoted here from London papers. Naturally, this has been resented in our own publicity circles. They can't say much about it but they can be disgruntled.

Thus Prime Minister Churchill's visit here has been somewhat discounted.

It isn't very dignified for Winston to have been corked up in Washington. But what can he do about it?

The World and the Mud Puddles

MORE ABOUT BRIDGES.

It is unfortunately true that there are a great many Christian clergymen and a great many teachers employed in the public schools in this country who are thoroughly embued with Communistic ideas and every once in a while this fact displays itself.

A group of three hundred forty-seven clergymen is reported to have signed an open letter to President Roosevelt requesting that the deportation of Harry Bridges to set aside and that the Australian Labor agitator be given American citizenship.

This request is based upon the expressed belief of the ministers that Bridges deportation "will be an injustice to him and a material loss to our national war effort." The ministers go on to say that "the welfare of our country in this time of crisis moves us to make this request."

Whose war efforts does Bridges profess to be aiding? Prior to Russia's entry, the Bridges gang was doing everything within its power to obstruct this nation's war effort. Slowdowns, demonstrations and slogans among them. "The Yanks Aren't Coming," were the measure of Bridges' patriotism prior to June 22, 1941. And for years before that he had been preaching class hatred, wrecking the maritime industry and generally obstructing every preliminary effort we were making to prepare for defense.

Moreover, since he has shown no enthusiasm for American citizenship and has made no sustained effort to obtain it, why should the President hand it to him on a silver platter, particularly while a deportation order is pending against him?

If Bridges is doing such a valiant service in the war effort, why not send him back to his native Australia immediately, where such efforts are needed and where, perhaps, they know how to handle him? The United States has been blessed with his presence too long already.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Two European businessmen, refugees from a Nazi-occupied country, have been indicted for smuggling a million dollars worth of narcotics into the United States.

When arrested both lived in swanky hotels, both were expensively dressed, both were very indignant.

These two gentlement escaped from Nazi wrath by the skin of their teeth.

They found a haven of security and peace in America—and promptly proceeded to stab us in the back.

Dope is as dangerous an enemy as Hitler. The foreigner who brings dope into this country is a saboteur as much as the sneak who blows up factories, disables machinery or poisons our water supply.

No punishment is too severe for these fellows—not even sending them right back into the arms of the Nazis.

Which, by the way, brings me to a certain type of refugees who have come here to live in luxury and ease and who are making themselves thoroughly obnoxious.

They strut around in the best hotels and swankiest night clubs. They stick up their noses at us plebian Americans and treat us with snobbish condescension and superior pity.

They make a lot of noise, remain seated or stand in sloppy posture when the national anthem is played, they flaunt their petty gentility into everyone's face.

Poor fools that they are! Ridiculous spectacles that they make of themselves—chocolate soldiers. Tin-horn trumpeters. Ill-mannered four-flushers.

There are thousands of refugees here whom we welcome, whom we want to help, who say prayers of thanks for the haven they have found here.

They are thoroughly ashamed of that other breed, the same breed that has caused wars in Europe for centuries and hid with their possessions until the wars were over.

Some time ago a very charitable lady held a bazaar for war relief in New York. She asked the wealthy refugees she knew to contribute articles that could be auctioned off.

One of them, living in New York's most expensive hotel, sent a beautiful silver coffee pitcher.

When the lady turned it over to see its manufacturer, she found the hotel's name stamped on the bottom.

That's gratitude.

Hints On Etiquette

If the bride can't bear to give up the drama of a real wedding gown when wedding her soldier, sailor, coast guard or marine bridegroom who must wear his uniform, she should dress as simply as possible and have her attendants do the same.

Reveal Details On Mission Which Won Medal For Broschart

Crew Of Liberator Bomber Fought Off Attack By Dozen Zeros, Downing Five

Details of the exploit which resulted in the entire crew of a Liberator bomber, of which Staff Sgt. Joseph F. Broschart, of Boston avenue, was a member, receiving the Distinguished Flying Cross, were revealed today by the War Department. The award was given for "extraordinary achievement" in a flight over Wewak, New Guinea.

Broschart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Broschart, of Boston avenue.

The text of the citation, announced today, is as follows:

"This combat crew of a B-24 bomber was engaged on an armored reconnaissance mission when their plane was intercepted by a formation of from 10 to 12 enemy fighters. During the ensuing engagement, the gunners kept up a steady fire at the enemy planes and succeeded in destroying five of them. The Zeros continued to make passes from all directions, for 30 minutes, until cloud cover was reached. After the battle, during which one engine of this bomber was badly damaged, and the forward and top turret guns disabled, the reconnaissance mission continued. The courage, ability and devotion to duty shown by this combat crew are in keeping with the finest traditions of the service."

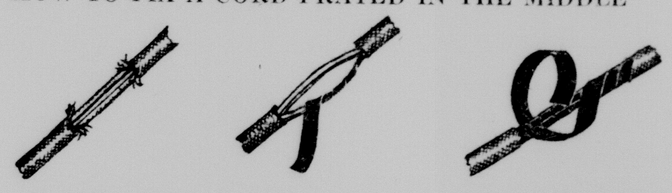
Homemakers all over America once stuck to their kitchens and parlors —things like home electric repairs were "a man's job". Now that men are off on fighting fronts, it's a different story! Mrs. America thinks it's sissy to call in a repair man for little jobs she can just as well do herself. Below are a few Victory tricks she knows, and YOU can learn!

HOW TO FIX A CORD FRAYED IN THE MIDDLE

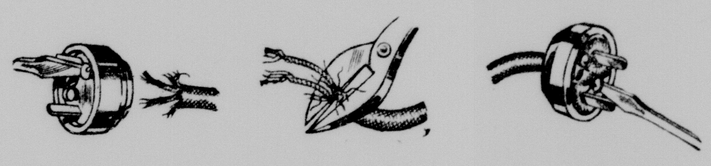


Clip off the frayed or crumbled part of the wire neatly.

Tape up each wire separately, using electrician's tape.

Now tape both wires together. Adhesive tape cracks quickly.

HOW TO FIX A CORD FRAYED NEAR PLUG

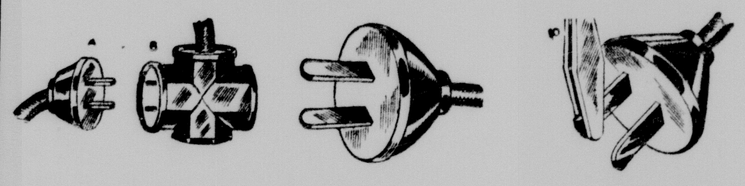


Unloosen the screws in the plug and pull the wire out.

Cut off the frayed part of the wire, leaving a neat end.

Reinsert the wire in the plug and screw back in place.

MAKE THE PLUG FIT SNUGLY



If "A" doesn't fit snugly into "B," "B's" tension may be lost.

Bend "A's" prongs apart just enough to get a snug fit.

Or you can bend out the ends of the prongs with pliers.

Almost All Sailors, Marines Wounded In War Have Recovered

OWI Reveals That Over 97 Per Cent Are Or Will Be Fit For Future Service

By EARLE MARCKRES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 20. — The office of war information disclosed on Wednesday that more than 97 per cent of all naval and marine personnel wounded on all battle-fronts between December 7, 1941—Pearl Harbor—and March 31, 1943 have recovered for future war service.

Of the wounded personnel, 53 per cent have already returned to duty, 43.5 per cent are under temporary treatment for release within a short time, nine-tenths per cent are invalided from service and only 2.6 per cent died from their injuries.

Figures on the improvement of injured army personnel are incomplete, the report stated, but "an analysis of available data on army wounded shows that recoveries are comparable to naval and marine percentages".

Army and navy medical developments, the OWI said, have reached the point where U. S. fighting men now receive the best care and equipment of any troops in the history of warfare. Their odds for recovery in the bitterest battles are greatly enhanced, the report asserted, adding:

"In the original occupation of North Africa, the only deaths were those of men killed outright or so badly wounded that nothing could have saved them. This is also true in other theaters of war."

"Mercy System' Extensive

This "mercy system," the report continued, is the result of a co-ordinated chain of medical services aided by highly-developed mobile surgical units, which extend from the soldier's combat first-aid kit to the large well-equipped general hospital in the United States.

Chief navy counterpart of the army's field units is the 'floating hospital which is designed to hospital naval and land forces either ashore or afloat.

The army ambulance plane was praised as a "tremendous morale-builder" in speeding seriously wounded soldiers from Africa Europe India and the Far East to U. S base hospitals.

"The fact that a man knows he can be home in a couple days from almost any part of the world is a tremendous morale-builder," the OWI stated.

Parade Committee For Memorial Day Will Meet Monday

Arrangement Of Parade Will Be Completed At Meeting Of Representatives

Chief Marshal Cecil Suber, of the Memorial Day Parade, has called a meeting of members of the parade committee and representatives of the different organizations for Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Legion Home, when the lineup of the parade will be completed.

All organizations expecting to participate in the parade are asked by Mr. Suber to notify Parade Chairman Frank T. Sargent of their intentions by Monday evening.

An invitation has been extended by the Marshall and parade committee to all service men on furlough to turnout on Memorial Day and take part in the parade, inasmuch as the men of this war are also being honored, both in the services at the cemetery and by the dedication of a memorial placque at the court house.

The parade will move promptly at 1:45 o'clock, it is stated.

Belts are worn by Japanese soldiers which are believed by them to protect the wearer from harm.

Clad for swift jungle action

WITH their cool open-neck shirts and lightweight trousers, our tropical soldiers are dressed for comfort and unhampered fighting efficiency.

Whatever the climate, the Army has planned months in advance to style garments for comfort and long wear. Including the underwear, which is just the right fabric and weight to keep our men comfortable wherever they are.

You can enjoy up-to-the-minute styling and easy comfort in your underwear, too. For, during the last 40 years, the makers of HANES Underwear have applied fine craftsmanship to the knitting and tailoring of underwear in correct sizes, styles and weights.

Many Conditions To Consider In Invasion Plans

Over-Water Attack Always Lacks Surprise Element; Defenses Must Be Broken

SOUTH EUROPE HAS FORTIFIED ISLANDS

(Editor's Note: The requisites of invasion of Contental Europe are discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
Written Especially For International News Service

NEW YORK, May 20—The invasion of Continental Europe is the subject uppermost in the minds of most persons in the United Nations. With many people there is great confusion of knowledge as to the basic conditions required for a successful over-water attack against troops properly emplaced on land.

It has always been an established fact, which was recently again proved by the Dieppe raid, that an over-water attack against land positions can never, under normal conditions, be made as a surprise to the enemy. Proper vigilance will always detect the coming attack.

Surprise Impossible

Because of the impossibility of surprise, the land defense installations must be destroyed, or rendered ineffective. This was again proved by the Dieppe raid. This simmers down to the fact that any invasion attack must be preceded by a terrific barrage, which, as of 1943, must consist of both artillery and airplane bombs. Such a barrage must hold the defenders under cover until the attacking forces have seized the entire beachhead defense systems.

The main invasion of Europe, providing active Nazi defense continues, should be at a location where there will be the least number of natural and artificial defense systems to overcome before the death blow to Hitler and his Axis legions is delivered.

Feints To Be Expected

No one can possibly know where invasions may be launched that are merely feints for the purpose of detracting enemy attention. Some European countries may be attacked merely to break them off and separate them from the Axis. No one but the supreme command is aware actually of the populations that are most ready at this time to stage a revolt against Hitler.

No one but the supreme command can have any possible idea as to whether or not Turkey will come actively into the camp of the United Nations or if she does not whether or not she will permit the passage of troops of the democracies through her territory.

Island Bases Are Problem

The most difficult invasion to make is where the mainland is strongly protected by highly fortified island bases. This condition does not apply to the Atlantic Coast, but it definitely does to the southern shores of Europe on the Mediterranean. No where in the world is there a stronger natural defense formed by a string of islands than that which is made up of the Dodecanese Islands, Crete, the Greek Islands at the entrance of the Dardanelles, the southern island portion of Greece the bottleneck entrance to the Adriatic Sea, the Islands of Sicily, Sardinia, and Corsica.

After reaching the mainland, due to natural mountainous defenses, it could be very difficult for an invasion to reach the heart of Europe from Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, or Italy.

It would be most difficult for the same reasons to get to Central Western Europe from the Scandinavian Peninsula.

Third Nurses Aide Class At Hospital

New Group Of 19 Women Start 80-Hour Course At New Castle Hospital

Realizing the splendid work being accomplished by the Red Cross Nurses Aides in local hospitals, a third class, composing a group of 19 women, was started at the New Castle hospital on Monday with Sister M. Annette, as the instructor.

The class will meet three evenings a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, for three hours, from 7 to 10 o'clock. Eighty hours of class work and hospital duty are to be completed by the aides before receiving their caps and pins, qualifying them as Red Cross Nurses Aides. Thirty-five hours will be spent in class work and demonstration by the group and this is followed by the remaining 45 hours of actual hospital duty, under supervision of Sister M. Annette. Upon completion of the 80 hours, an examination will be given to the aides, and if successfully passing the requirements—they will be qualified as Red Cross aides.

Heretofore, much enthusiasm has been shown by the preceding two classes, and it is expected that the same spirit will be shown by the new group. The classes are made possible by the cooperation of the director of nurses, Sister M. Dolorosa, and the capable instruction of Sister M. Annette.

Those of the local chapter of the American Red Cross Nurses aide committee present at the organization of the third class were: Mrs. W. Hayford, Mrs. W. J. Kinnard, Mrs. C. L. Davis, Mrs. Harry Barkby, chairman of the Nurses Aides of Lawrence county; and Miss Elizabeth Breslin, local Red Cross executive-secretary.

NO. 5 MINE HOUSE BURNS TO GROUND IN TWENTY MINUTES

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, May 20.—Ignited by the explosion of an oil stove in the kitchen, a house at No. 5 Mine occupied by Dominick Schmizzi was almost instantly enveloped in flames from the scattered oil, and burned to the ground in 20 minutes, late Tuesday. The occupant, a bachelor, had time only to toss a bucket of water on the fire before he was forced out of the house. He lost everything, including his shoes and $50 in cash secreted in the house.

Maybe our enemies are too smart to bomb us. The smart way to deal with a sleeping bear is to let him alone.

Editor, New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear sir:

This isn't a cry of "Wolf! Wolf!"

Are we in danger of losing our democracy on the home front? Less than half our voters bother to take an intelligent part in the government. There can't be a democracy unless the majority of people are ruling the people, can there?

Don't we, right now, look more like a bureaucracy than a democracy? And does the bureacracy, right now, look a bit weak beside the power of one organized group?

There's another organized group that works to get all voters to the polls. It helps them know who and what they should vote for by calling meetings shortly before election day to let office-seekers show why they should be elected, and to let those for and those against tell the why and the why not of any new measure to be voted on. This organized group is called the League of Women Voters. There are a lot of these leagues all over the country. It looks like we could use one in New Castle—only about a third of us voted last time; and maybe some of the third didn't know much about who they voted for.

ITALY'S PROPAGANDA FIGHTING INVASION FEAR WITH NEW HATE

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 20.—Italy's domestic propaganda machine today was reported trying to combat invasion fears by instilling new hate against the Allies.

The London Daily Express said the Rome radio has suddenly increased its tales of alleged Allied atrocities to a fever pitch.

In Belgium, 14-year-olds are being taken from their parents by the Nazis and indentured to German "foster parents" as farm laborers.

The daily cost to France of German occupation would build 2,500 modern workmen's homes.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills

SHENANGO PLANT EMPLOYES VOTING

Election On Labor Union Question Being Held At Local Pottery Today

Employes of the Shenango Pottery company today are voting upon whether or not they wish an organized labor union to represent them as bargaining agent, and what particular union they prefer. At 5:30 this morning representatives of the National Labor Relations Board set up the machinery for the election and until midnight tonight the voting will continue. The supervisors for the NLRB are Paul F. Shupp, John McGovern, Sidney Kobre and William George. All are out of the Pittsburgh office.

Each employe eligible to take part in the election is handed a ballot which has four decisions on it. In the first division is listed the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, in the second the United Construction Workers, division of district 50, United Mine Workers of America, Local 366, in the third the Shenango China Workers, Local Industrial Union 1294, Congress of Industrial Organizations. In the fourth division is listed "none" which signifies a vote for no union at all.

Each of the three unions has a representative at the election table. The company is also entitled to a representative but officials felt it was not necessary to be represented. The election is being held in the Glost Kiln room.

It is estimated that about 2000 of the employes will ballot today. If the election returns show that neither of the three unions or none have a majority of the votes cast it will be declared "no election" and another election held later, with the low group in today's voting being dropped.

Suggestions On Keeping Rabbits Out Of Gardens

City Forester Asked How To Protect Garden Plants From Rabbits

There is much complaint by victory gardeners that rabbits are already committing depredations in their gardens, eating off the young lettuce, pea plants, also tulips and others tender plants. Folks are seeking some method whereby these "cotton tails" can be induced to keep away.

Owen Fox, city forester, has been asked for suggestions in this direction. He states that various plans have been tried and some have worked more or less satisfactorily. One is the use by gardeners, of dried blood, which can be secured at a garden supply store. This is placed on top of the soil near the plants. The dried blood gives off an unpleasant odor distasteful to rabbits and other animals; the blood becomes more potent if rained upon.

Another method, Owen states, is to take strips of tar paper, about 6 or 7 inches high, supported by stakes, and surround the planted plots. The tar paper creosote odor is distasteful to these animals and tends to keeping them away. Of course this plan can be worked better on small plots. A collar of tar paper may be placed around tomato plants which will keep off these marauders, and also prevent cut worms entering the plant near the ground and eating its way upward thus killing the plant; another method used against cut worms is the use of a small disc of tar paper with an opening, fitting closely around the plant on the ground which prevents the entry of the worm.

At St. Mary's Catholic church center on Beaver street a new scout troop was installed to be known as Troop 2 of the New Castle District.

Father Francis M. McCarter and nine members of the troop committee were present to assist Glenn S. Myers, assistant scoutmaster in the installation ceremony.

E. D. Hawk, council commissioner, put on the candle ceremony for the scouts after members of the troop had opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and by repeating their scout oath. Cecil Suber presented the troop charter to Joseph A. Paluszak, chairman of the new troop committee. Mr. Suber is the New Castle District commissioner. Membership cards from the national scout organization were presented to John J. McCarthy, W. J. Carlin, J. T. Carey, Ralph J. Reider, Dr. M. P. McCann, A. J. McGuirk, John A. Meehan, Ben Taylor and Thomas J. Cunningham as members of the troop committee by Joseph Hartman, principal of Highland and McGill schools, who is organization and extension chairman for New Castle District and who will be the council camp director during the coming summer camping season. Mr. Hartman made a very interesting talk to the scouts and scouters.

The following scouts have completeo their tenderfoot scout requirements and received their tenderfoot cards from their assistant scoutmaster and their badges from Father McCarter and the troop committeemen: Leo Callahan, Patrick Callahan, William Gardner Lawrence Hunt Jr., Samuel Hill Joseph Quinn, Edward Smith Charles R. Snow, William Taylor Casper Winkler.

Father McCarter, the pastor of St. Mary's, gave the scouts and assembled scouters a very interesting talk and told them he was glad they now had a scout troop in the parish and hoped they would progress rapidly.

Perry Skundor an Eagle scout from Troop 12 welcomed the new scouts as members of the scout organization.

Athletes Eagerly Await County "Commando Meet"

Novel Event Billed Friday At Union High

Over 100 Schoolboys To Vie On 1,200-Yard Obstacle-Studded Course

TWO O'CLOCK STARTING TIME

Athletes representing a half dozen schools eagerly await the start of Lawrence County's first "commando meet," Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, on Union Township high's gnarled 1,200-yard course.

More than 100 contestants will dash over the stretch of ground crammed with 26 tenacious obstacles. A few of the stumbling blocks include hand vaults, maize run, jog jumble, under pass, high jump, leaning tree climb, hand over hand swing, leap frog obstacle, balance crossing, water pit jump, zig-zag, balance crossing (pond), under and over obstacles, Y hurdle and stone stagger.

Thrills Promised

The novel affair, which promises to produce thrills which are missing in other sports, should attract a large throng of sideliners, especially if the weatherman sports one of his best smiles.

Coach "Pat" Patterson, who constructed the commando course purely to toughen teen-aged Union high boys, today announced that New Castle, Mt. Jackson, Shenango, New Wilmington, Bessemer and Union will vie in the "time' meet. The winning team will be awarded the Jack Gerson trophy while the individual posting the fastest time will be awarded the Larry Perelman trophy.

Here, briefly, is the general plan of the meet as announced today by Patterson.

General Plans

Any time before 2, candidates will be permitted to walk or run over the course. Before the meet, the various obstacles (26 of 'em) will be explained and the fouls that can be committed will be named.

Judges will cover the course to see that no flagrant violations are perpetrated.

The starter will give the "go" signal to each contestant in a six-man heat. The participants will leave the "post" 30 seconds apart.

Timers will be assigned one to each contestant. Watches will be places on the checker's table. The checker will check each watch as the timer clocks the finish of his man and then record the time on the "running order" sheet.

List of Officials

Patterson announced the list of officials as follows:

Timers—John Eagleson, New Wilmington; I. Stunkard, Mt. Jackson; M. Alick, Union Township; Joe Weresuk, Bessemer, and Emmett Gillaspie, New Castle.

Judges—George "Gig" Thomas, New Castle high; William "Bill" Klee, New Castle high; Wilbur Patterson, Union Township; David Boyd, Westminster college.

Starter—Grover C. Washabaugh, Westminster college coach.

Checker—Charles A. Landolf, New Castle News.

The meet continues this afternoon at 4 o'clock and pairs the 4 (2) class against the 4 (1) softballers.

Peter Grittle served as umpire in yesterday's setto.

Miss Emma Gibbons is in charge of the tourney while the Gra-Y boys are scorekeepers and Miss Gibbons' assistants.

Terry Dolson, new pro at the New Castle Country club, developed a host of stellar niblick swingers during his successful 10-year span as skipper of the Fort Myers (Florida) Golf and Country club. Two of the more accomplisned members of the Dolson-tutored class are son Tommy, a freshman at Duke university, and Dan Smith, captain of Minnesota's troupe. The younger Dolson, who picked up the links ABC together with Smith, captured the coveted Fort Myers City and Country club championship when he was 16. Smith bagged the same honors two years before Tommy . . . In the rough Big Ten circle, Smith ranks among the first five . . . .

Carm DeLeone, head of the City-County Independent Baseball league since it was founded about seven or eight years ago, forwards word that the league "is forced to end operations due to the numerous handicaps brought about by the war". When Hitler, Mussolini, Hirohito and company hear the birdies sing, the circuit will join the local baseball parade. Carm asserts . . . The Moose club, according to insiders will use Lee avenue (West Side) as its home grounds. The Rodenbaugh outfit was unable to cook up a suitable agreement with the Elders, operators of Elder field . . .

Months ago, scribes wrote Al (Bummy) Davis' boxing obituary. The Brooklyn bad boy has disagreed (they all do) right along and went so far as to lay $2,000 that he'd defeat Al Tribuani last Monday night. When the fight ended, Bummy had a double defeat on his hands . . . Add signs of the times: Lombardi spikes Umpire Reardon. Maybe that's a new way to get even with the so-called blind Toms . . . Under terms of a measure passed by the Massachusetts Senate, Sunday doubleheaders in Boston may be completed after the 6 p. m. curfew. The bill stipulates, however, that the second tilt must get underway by 4:30 p. m. . . . .

Dismissal of Jimmy Wilson as manager of the Chicago Cubs may bob up mighty soon. The Cubs' sad showing this far by the way, is providing laughing matter for recalcitrant Lou Novikoff. Home run facts and figures: As of May 13, only 19 homers had been blasted in the American league; 32 in the National. The rampaging Phils were deadlocked with the Giants and Yanks for top honors, each with eight. The Cubs, Athletics and Washington were the homerless clubs in the majors, as of that date . . . Milwaukee, of the American Association, has found the ball much to its liking thus far. The Brewers have parked close to two-dozen pellets into home run land . . . .

BOOKIES GIVE JACK 2-1 EDGE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 20. — Beau Jack, New York commission lightweight champion, and Bob Montgomery, perennial contender, wound up their training for tomorrow night's 15-round title battle, with the former established as a 2 to 1 favorite to retain this state's recognition as the 135-pound standard-bearer.

Both fighters concluded their conditioning in top shape and easily with range of the weight limit for one of the few all-negro title bouts ever held here.

See $75,000 Gate

Due to Beau Jack's popularity, the mild boxing boom in recent months and the lack of fisticuffs here in recent weeks during the annual stand of the circus at Madison Square Garden, a near-sellout gate of $75,000 or more was in prospect.

Beau Jack goes into the ring as the New York successor to Sammy Angott, who retired from the championship late last year. The little negro has remained unwhipped on his march through all comers leading to the title.

Montgomery survived a brief New York commission elimination tournament to be establi hed as the No. 1 contender.

The National Boxing association meantime has withheld recognition from Beau Jack pending his meeting Angott, who has made one victorious fight on a comeback toward the title he relinquished.

Massachusetts Boxing Commission Defies New York's August Board

(International News Service)

BOSTON, May 20—The Massachusetts boxing commission today announced it would recognize the winner of the June 8 clash of Willie Pep and Sal Bartolo as world's featherweight champion.

The Bay State commission thus defied the New York Athletic Commission which had declared the Braves Field bout would not be sanctioned as for the title.

WON TWICE BUT LOST RING CROWN IN THIRD BATTLE

When the Jefferson A.C. stages an 8-round fistic affray next Wednesday night in The Arena for the benefit of the New Castle Hospital Nurses alumni, one of the Former Greats of Pugilism will be present as a guest. He is an ex-champ and now is a corporal in Uncle Sam's army and is stationed at Deshon hospital, Butler. He is Corporal Jackie Fields, born in Chicago, February 9, 1907.

Corporal Fields' right name is Jacob Finkelstein. He won the welterweight crown from Joe Dundee at Detroit on a foul in two stanzas in July, 1929. He was a brilliant ringman and scored the right to box Dundee when he defeated Young Jack Thompson in a 10-rounder in Chicago in March of that year.

He stepped once out of his class and Young Corbett, the Third, beat him but he performed splendidly until Young Jack Thompson came along again. Up to their third fight Jackie had won twice. The third time Fields was stopped. Thompson's reign was followed by Tommy Freeman, Pinkie Mitchell and since then there have been some swell welters, f'r instance Barney Ross, Henry Armstrong, Fritzie Zivic and now Beau Jack is on top.

Local Lad Is Slugger

No doubt the ex-king of 147-pounders will eagerly eye the "comers"—the amateurs of today and pros' of tomorrow. Two on the card are Rayburn Nulph of New Bethlehem vs. Eddie Timbers of Pittsburgh and Mark Duddy of New Castle vs. Mike Mosak of Aliquippa. The latter pair are novices. In his last show Duddy put on a fight that pleased every fan and fanette in the house.

The main bout will find Buddy Triplett of Youngstown and Jim Mirades, Pittsburgh gridder, now turned heavyweight, swapping ponderous blows. Judging from the interest in the coming embroglio, there'll be another big crowd. Regardless how hot the weather may be the air-cooling system in The Arena will keep those inside comfortably cool.

Mexican Twirler Early Season Ace; Wins Five Straight Games

MACKIAN ROOKIE BORN IN MEXICO

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

Connie Mack generally brings up so many rookies each year that only a few get more than passing notice. Which all brings us to one, Jesse Sandowal Flores, just another

Mackian rookie in April but a very much-talked-about young fellow right now.

Mexican Recruit

The Mexican recruit (in was born in Guadalajara) lost his first start to the Red Sox, a two hit, 1 to 0 game, in an excellent mound performance by Flores and and his opponent, Tex Hughson.

In his second start, Flores trimmed the Washington Nats, 2 to 1, hurling 15 and two-thirds innings. For his third chore on the mound, Flores jostled the Nats again, 3 to 1. His next effort was a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees. Sunday he beat Cleveland.

Flores complete record follows:

	G.	W.	L.
1938—Bisbee	33	24	6
1939—Los Angeles	18	9	9
1940—Los Angeles	32	7	5
1941—Los Angeles	39	12	15
1942—Los Angeles	31	14	5

Coast Flash

Flores was purchased by the Athletics from Los Angeles last September. A stocky righthander, Flores stands five feet 11 inches tall and weighs 175 pounds.

Born in Guadalajara Nov. 2, 1916, he makes his home at La Habra, Calif. In grammar school he was an outstanding athlete, excelling especially in track events.

Braves Breathe On Bums' Necks; Trip Bucs Twice

Bostoners One Game From Top Berth; Run Streak To Seven Straight

CARDS SUBDUE BROOKLYN, 3-0

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 20.—None other than the Boston Braves are up there a snug, secure one game behind the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National League standings today.

The second place club earned its position yesterday by twice slapping down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2 to 1 in 11 innings and then 5 to 2, while the Dodgers were taking a drubbing from the third place St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 2.

Breezing Now

That the Braves are not due to tarry long in their current high place is a foregone conclusion, but right now they are really breezing as though the broken leg suffered by Manager Casey Stengel in his recent altercation with a passing automobile has spurred them on to bigger and better things.

The double victory increased the Braves' winning streak to seven games, the first game being won in the second extra inning when Johnny McCarthy singled, stole second and rode home on Whitey Wietelmann's hit.

The Braves scored four runs in the first two innings to clinch the nightcap.

The Cardinals subdued the Dodgers when Coaker Triplett belted out a home run with one on in the sixth inning for a 3 to 0 edge. The Dodgers scored their two trailing runs thereafter, as Max Lanier took the decision over Max Macon, with neither starter finishing.

Ott Homers Again

The New York Giants capitalized on Manager Mel Ott's first inning homer with one on to beat the Cincinnati Reds 3 to 2.

Bill Lohrman shutout the Reds until the ninth when they scored both of their runs only to be shut off by Van Lingle Mungo before they could turn defeat into victory.

Games were played at only those three points in the National League and all American League games were postponed.

ALL ANDERSONS

During the continued cool weather of spring there was not much progress in the growth among the seeds and plants in the gardens. Now that the weather has warmed up and the soil is warmer, growth is noticeable. Charles Dungaa of Newell avenue reports that this is the case in regard to his asparagus bed. He measured one of the plants at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, and by 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon it had grown two inches. Mr. Dungan, who is one of the ward's foremost gardeners, had worked and fertilized the asparagus bed in the early spring.

LaMotta Is Given Edge Over Fritzie

Zivic Hasn't Dropped Decision In Pittsburgh Since June, 1938

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 20—It has been five years since Fritzie Zivic last lost to a conquerer in his own back yard, but the odds were eight to five today that Jake La Motta, the Bronx windmill, would turn the trick and snap the Pittsburgher's record when they tangle next monday night at Forbes Field.

Zivic hasn't been whipped in a Pittsburgh ring since June of 1938 when Charley Burley topped him. He has racked up more than a score of local victories since then, but the New Yorker's buzz-saw tactics were expected to be too much for the old maestro.

The show will be the first of the new outdoor season. It boasts a strong supporting card of considable talent.

STEADY DOES IT

The Yankees' 1942 pitching staff had the best control in the American League. Yank pitchers passed 431, the low mark.

Dahlgren Takes Physical Exam

Departure Of Shortstop-First Sacker Figures To Cool Hot Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, May 20—With "Babe" Dahlgren headed for the army, the hot Philadelphia Phillies figure to cool down.

The first sacker-shortstop yesterday took his physical examination and soon may be wearing olive drab instead of the Phils' uniform.

Since joining the Phils, the 30-year-old athlete, married and father of a six-month old child, has been the principal reason why the Coxmen have staggered the baseball nation with one of the hottest Philly sprees in seasons.

TWO SOLDIERS DIE IN DYNAMITE EXPLOSION

(International News Service)

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass., May 20—Army authorities today were investigating a premature dynamite explosion during execution of a training problem which took the lives of two soldiers and injured a third.

Dead included Staff Sgt. Joseph F. Krokus, 25, Ashley, Pa.

Dick Ahrens, Washington rookie pitcher, won't go to war. He's seven feet tall and the army turned him down.

Interesting Facts About Graduates

Accomplishments Of Class Members Given At Commencement By Supt. Bell

ELLWOOD CITY, May 20.—The following interesting facts about the May gradutating class of Lincoln high school were given at the commencement exercises by Superintendent J. Ellis Bell:

"There probably never was a more historic time to be graduated from high school than the year 1943. There has never been a time in U. S. history when school boys were drafted into the armed forces. A number of the members of this class have already been called to the colors and more will be called in the very near future.

"There were 350 pupils enrolled in this group when it entered the ninth grade in September 1939. Tonight there are 207 pupils in the graduating class. Of the original 350 62 per cent are graduating, that is, about the average percentage of ninth grade pupils who finish high school. Last May it was 58 per cent, the year before 74 per cent and the year prior to that 64 per cent. It may be interesting to note, also, that there were 221 tuition pupils in this group in September 1939. Tonight there are approximately 109 to 50 per cent of the original group.

"The total number of graduates for the school year, including the mid-year pupils, is 295. Last school year 296 graduated.

"Only one member of the class has a perfect attendance record—Andy Russo has not missed a day or been tardy in his 12 years of schooling. He has attended 2160 days of school and has passed up 4220 opportunities to be tardy.

"Lois Flinner, Franklin township, has the honor of having traveled the farthest for her education. She has traveled 11 miles per day.

"The youngest member of the class is Jack Anderson, New Castle R. D. 2, who is approximately 16 years and five months of age.

"The honor of having the most brothers and sisters graduated from this high school goes to Jahice Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Woodside avenue. Janice is the eighth member of this family to graduate. Warren, 1926; Ralph, 1927; Eleanor, 1927; Jim, 1930; Dick, 1932; Don, 1934; Miriam, 1939, and Janice, 1943.

"Two members of the class received the eighth grade Legion award for scholarship, service and leadership. They have continued their work with distinction and are graduating with honors. They are Janice Wilson and Robert Lutton.

"Celeste Martini has distinguished herself as champion speller in the senior high school. She is the best speller among approximately 1,000 pupils.

"It is also interesting to note that there are three families in which two members of that family are members of this class: Ila Irene and Sara Marie Fowler, David and Helen McMillin, and Donald and Geraldine McDeavitt.

"Four members were lettermen in football: Bob Wallace, Henry Vitkovich, Carl Ottober and Jack McClintick.

"Three were lettermen in basketball: John Robuck, Peter Greco and Henry Vitkovich.

"The following were members of the band: Dominick Pratt, Richard Agostinelli, W. Betty Jane Schlemmer, Joe Bagosi, Anthony Lordi and Shirley Babbitt (drum major).

"Three are members of the orchestra: James O'Shurak, Dominick Carrozza and Anthony Lordi.

"An organization known as the 'Plymouth Drama Festival', Plymouth, Mass., selects, each summer, from hundreds of applications submitted, the 40 outstanding candidates from all parts of America. The candidates selected attend this drama school without expense during the summer month. Doualas Ferguson has been accepted and granted a scholarship by this organization.

"And now, for the third year, the College club will present $100 scholarship to one of the seniors. Mrs. Warren Grocott, president of the College club, made the presentation to Miss Loretta Wilson."

Mrs. Bert Staggers of Knox has been admitted to the Osteopathic hospital at Grove City.

The division accepted this recommendation of the committee and action will be taken by various groups.

All merchants will cooperate with the blood donor program to be put on by the Red Cross here on July 6 to the tenth. Every merchant will cooperate by taking appointments at a time when Blood Donor Chairman Mrs. Bruce Hunter needs them.

RAIDS ON BERLIN CAUSE N

German Floods Warning To Japs

Bombing Attacks On System Of Reservoirs Would Be Disastrous

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 20.—Japan's warlords today may be taking grim warning from the relentless floods sweeping Germany's Ruhr as the result of R. A. F. bombings of two key dams, it was disclosed today by James R. Young, for 13 years Tokyo bureau chief of International News Service.

Picturing Japan as a nation almost completely dependent upon her hydro-electric sources of power, Young said:

"I was often told by Japanese of their fear of Russian bombing attacks, and I assume the same fear will develop if they begin to consider that we will do to them what the R. A. F. has accomplished in the Ruhr valley."

Young said the R. A. F. pattern can be "easily followed" in attacks on Japan, "since the island itself is a network of reservoirs."

"Consistent bombing of Japanese water power dams," he said, "would paralyze her military industries."

Bible Teachings on Wine's Deceitfulness

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for May 23 is Proverbs 20:1; 23:29-35; Matthew 24:45-51, the Golden Text being Proverbs 23:32, "At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.")

"Wine is mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.' So ran the Hebrew proverb. My "mocker" is meant that men who have indulged in wine are inclined to mock at things that are good.

The saying that strong drink is raging means that it causes disturbances internally to those who drink it. Those who drink it are not wise because while it may promise pleasure, it certainly is not joy that lasts.

"Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause who hath redness of eyes?

"They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine.

"Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright.

"At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

Drink Brings Woes

Overindulgence in drink surely does bring woes. It brings on quarrels, if not violence, loose talk or "babbling". They that "tarry long at the wine," that go to seek mixed wine—which is wine that is spiced and therefore more potent—suffer all these disagreeable consequences. Surely it is much wiser to "look not on the wine when it is red."

It stirs up the evil passions and makes men and women do things they would not think of doing when they are in their right senses. In other words, it makes beasts of them instead of responsible citizens, good wives, husbands and parents.

"Thine eye shall behold strange things," the proverb continues, "and thine heart shall utter perverse things. Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast."

No sane person would lie down in the midst of the sea, or on the top of a mast. They would be most uncomfortable and it would be dangerous, yet men and women drink until they have no more sense of what they are doing than to do things just as stupid and dangerous in no sense or reason in them.

St. Matthew tells us of Jesus' parable of two kinds of servants, the one who lived a sober life and was trusted by his master, and the other who spent his time with evil companions and deceived his master. The faithful and wise servant is given rule over the entire household of his master, when the latter comes home unexpectedly and finds him diligently at work.

"Blessed is that servant," said Jesus. "Verily I say unto you, That ye shall make him ruler over all his goods."

But the evil servant says in his heart, "My Lord delayeth his coming," and then beats the other servants and eats and drinks with drunkards, neglecting his work. When the master comes home when he is not expected and finds this man letting his work go, abusing his fellow servants and carousing with dissolute persons, he shall dismiss him from his service to associate with hypocrites, and to bewail his lot with "weeping and gnashing of teeth."

The life of the person who is over indulgent is no bed of roses. It is one of physical discomfort or actual misery, financial instability, generally, and spiritual unhappiness.

The Golden Text

Temperance.

"At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." —Proverbs 23:32.

Injured By Horse Second Time In Year

Harry L. Houk of R. F. D. No. 1, Ellwood City, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital with a broken leg, sustained when he was kicked by a horse. He also suffered injuries of the ribs.

This is the second time within a year that Mr. Houk has been hospitalized for the same kind of an accident, having been injured about six months ago.

The Battle of Golden Hill is ranked by some writers as the first conflict of the war of the American Revolution. It took place on Jan. 18, nearly seven weeks before the Boston massacre.

VICTORY GARDEN NOTES

(By LEWIS C. DAYTON)
(County Farm Agent)

MEXICAN BEAN BEETLE

Adult Mexican bean beetles are yellow to copper in color and have 16 black spots on the back. The eggs are yellow and are laid in masses on the undersides of bean leaves. The young are spiny, slug-like creatures, yellow and about one-fourth of an inch in length. These transform into yellow, oval bodies which cling to the undersides of bean leaves. The adults emerge from these pupae in 6 to 8 days.

Bean leaves are skeletonized by the insects. Sections may be eaten out of pods, or pits may be eaten in the surfaces. Where both beetles and larvae are feeding, injury is so severe that the plants often are killed.

Various kinds of bush beans, pole beans, and lima beans are eaten. Lima beans are not often as seriously damaged. Soybeans are susceptible to attacks especially where other beans have been destroyed.

Control must be started as soon as the early beetles ar feeding on the plants. Where only short rows are grown in a garden, hand picking of egg clusters and beetles may be helpful. In fields, spot dusting of isolated infested areas has been found to be helpful. Destruction of the vines by digging or plowing them under the soil to a depth of 6 inches or more after the pods are harvested will destroy the infestation and prevent the development of large numbers of beetles which would feed on later planted crops.

Rotenone and Pyrethrum insecticides are the most effective materials to use in killing the beetles and young. Sprays or dusts of these materials may be used. In small-sized gardens, a ½ to 1 per cent rotenone dust is perhaps the most easily used. Pyrethrum dusts or sprays should be used as recommended on the container. Two or three applications of insecticide may be needed in order to clean out a heavy infestation. Since the materials must hit the insects, the dust or spray should be directed upward to cover the undersides of the leaves. Top dusting is not of much value.

Tomorrow—Squash Bugs.
